

Mudoh Mbah

Transportation and Logistics Graduate Student

Program: Transportation Planning and Urban Systems

What are some of your hobbies? I enjoy reading books and playing table tennis.

What are some of your past/current research interests? My research will focus on transit platform design to reduce transit delays, customer convenience and improve security in using heavy rail transit. It will examine reasons why frequent transit users choose to stand at a particular location on the platform or enter a particular vehicle frequently and the effect on this on dwelt time, delays and security.

Why did you pick NDSU? Because of the quality of its teaching staff, course content and tuition affordability

What are your goals or future plans? My goal is to complete this graduate program with a good knowledge of public transportation that will enable me to practice as a transportation planner without any limitation.
