

Ihsan Khan graduated with his B.S. in civil engineering in 2012 from the University of Engineering and Technology in Pakistan and his M.S. in transportation engineering in 2015 from the National University of Sciences and Technology in Pakistan. Currently, he is pursuing a PhD in transportation and logistics in the hopes of someday returning to Pakistan and pursuing a career as a teacher. Khan's research focuses on passenger car equivalent for different vehicle classes on rural arterial roads of Pakistan. In his spare time he enjoys playing soccer and watching movies.